

In 2017 and 2018, thousands of residents across the Chattahoochee Valley participated in On the Table conversations. These conversations led to new relationships, elevated civic conversations (some that continue to meet!) and collaborative actions. All of these outcomes make our communities more connected, resilient and resourceful.

We're happy that you're joining us on this journey for better connection – to each other and our community. As we have meaningful conversations about the issues and experiences that impact our quality of life, we learn about what matters to all of us. And in many cases, we identify ways in which we can be more civically involved and work together toward solutions that are greater than those we could achieve on our own.

Sample Conversation Questions

1

What brought you to the table?

2

What are your hopes for our community, now and in the long term?

3

What are the positive qualities or characteristics of our community?
How can we leverage those attributes to strengthen our community?

4

What does our community need? What can we do individually or collectively to address those needs?

5

Let's choose a problem facing our community, neighborhood or region and discuss how we would solve it.

6

Share one important thing we've accomplished here.
What is one next step you would like to take, either individually or collectively, based on our conversation?
(See the "Take Action Worksheet" to help you plan your next steps.)
